

We are proud to announce that we've officially closed our seed round.

On behalf of the all DeepLife team we wanted to thank you all for your participation: those that believe in us since the beginning and those that have joined us in the last few months.

We couldn't be more grateful to have you alongside us.

Almost 3 years ago Jean-Baptiste and I had this crazy idea of digitally duplicating the behavior of living organisms and we were dreaming about the infinite opportunities to speed up drug discovery. And today, thanks to all of you, we're about to make this dream come true.

But this is only one step paving the next 24 months of DeepLife history. We have many challenges ahead and more than ever we're ready to face them:

- Strengthen a world class team of scientists
- Publication in best scientific journals
- Generate +1M$ ARR
- Prepare series A in 18 months

For the occasion, we will organize an investor event between December & January. Please click on the link below to register.

Highlights

- We closed a 4 M€ seed round: 2 M€ equity + 2 M€ non-dilutive fundings from BPI
- We extend our collaboration with Cellarity for the next 6 months
- We welcome 5 new team members

Lowlights

- After a year with us, Jim's contract (SVP of Business Dev) will terminate by the end of the year. He will leave us with a 6-months full business pipe. Recruitments are in progress for his successor

Asks

- We are looking for a digital marketing agency specialized in biopharma. If you have names, please feel free to share them with us.
- Fill the doodle to register for the DeepLife investor event!

Information

- DeepLife will attend the BiotechX summit in Basel from November 8 to 10th. Feel free to share contact located in the area, it will be a pleasure to meet them.
- All the documentation about our seed round you may need, has been made available on a dedicated Drive. Please contact me if you cannot access it.

See you soon

We're starting a new format for our newsletter. As usual, feel free to come back to us whether you have suggestions for improvement.
